Joali Maldives to Reopen on Aug 1 with Private Island Buyout Offer

Best Luxury Hotels in The Maldives

7 July, 2020

Joali Maldives is reopening its doors to visitors on August 1 — and the all luxury resort can become exclusively yours!

For all those wealthy wanderlusts who are looking for unadulterated luxury, beauty and of course, privacy, Joali is offering a private buyout option.

Hot Hot Hot Ad

Guests will have the ultra-exclusive use of the private island's 73 villas and residences as well as its facilities, from its restaurants to the relaxing Joali Spa by ESPA.

For nature and sports lovers, spend time with the resort's marine biology and water sports team, learn about their coral nursery, go on a turtle quest and top it off with some scuba diving.

Buyout prices start from $90,000 per night from now until September 30, and then rises to $185,000 per night between October 1 through to November 30.

For guests 12 years and above, an all-inclusive full-board meal plan (including alcohol for adults) will cost an additional $450 per night per guest.

Best Experience: Couples, Family, Design, Activity

A new landmark for glamor and sophistication in the Maldives, JOALI is an ultra luxury resort that's opened in 2018 on the island of Muravandhu, Raa atoll. Celebrating the "Joy of Life" with high skill, artistry and sustainability in its very essence, Joali promises a non-standard and exceptional island experience for its guests. The 73-villa property offers unconventional luxury in a private setting and a distinct focus on design by internationally-renowned design studio Autoban, architecture and design firm Atolye4n and Tokyo-based Studio Glitt.

Innovative dining concepts include Japanese restaurant Saoko, authentic Asian and Levant restaurant Vandhoo, Tuscan-inspired Bellinis, personalised dining and cooking school Her Kitchen, as well as numerous destination dining experiences. The Spa by ESPA invites guests on a holistic wellness journey along with a world-class fitness centre and expert trainers. JOALI Maldives celebrates its "Joie de Vivre" philosophy through unique programming such as Maldivian excursions and one-of-a-kind on-property offerings, including an Art Studio and Gallery, Flower Garden, Manta Ray Treehouse and more.
